The following children were neither absent nor tardy during the school year 1950-1951:

Grade 8
James Lyons

Grade 2
Raymond Cote

The enrollment showed no increase for the current year. The interesting fact about the enrollment, however, is the fact that the four upper grades show a decrease of 8 while the lower grades show a similar increase. The estimate of enrollment for another year is complicated by the fact that the census figures for first grades have not proved to be too reliable. The number on the 1951 census for 1st grade entrants was 15. The total enrollment for the year was 44 with an actual enrollment of 39 as of Jan. 31. This year census figures indicate a prospective enrollment of 27. On the basis of the above we can anticipate several more entrants in Sept. than the 27 indicated.

The secondary enrollment shows nearly a 20% increase. There are 60 enrolled as of Jan. 31 as opposed to 51 last year. At the same time with 12 seniors and 27 enrolled in grade 8 the prospects of an even larger secondary enrollment is probable. Since 1945 the secondary enrollment has increased nearly 50% and during the same period the state average cost of high school instruction, which is the district's legal responsibility, has increased from $114.59 to $280.95. This single factor has had a tremendous impact on budgetary requirements for the district. The situation at secondary level will continue to show an increase until an anticipated peak in 1962. The peak enrollment, barring any building of new homes, at elementary level is anticipated about 1956.

PERSONNEL

The resignation of Mrs. Broadhead necessitated one change in teaching staff. Mrs. Violet Jones who had been a successful teacher in Londonderry for several years was available and the pupils had teachers of experience and adequate professional background at every grade level.

The district is indeed fortunate that geographical location and adequate physical facilities make it possible to staff the school with teachers of training and experience.

The inauguration of the program of handwriting instruction has been helpful in all rooms. Papers have generally increased in legibility and neatness. Despite the use of machines the ability to write legibly is an asset to every child.

Teachers generally are continuing to improve professionally. Extension courses and summer sessions attract most of the staff. In addition the services of Miss Van-Camp were obtained to assist teachers in the reading field. She conferred with several teachers about specific reading problems.

The grounds were improved by hard surfacing driveways and an area back of the school to provide play space that would be available all year. The cooperation of the town officials in plowing this area makes it possible to have a dry play area under winter conditions.

This improvement in the grounds also made it possible to make progress in the care of the building particularly the floors. The gravel around the school presented a serious problem of maintenance. With a hard surfaced area the building will present a finer appearance, will be easier to maintain and the floors will stand up for a longer period. Grading and seeding of the grass area will enhance the appearance of the building.

FINANCE

All connected with the administration of schools are concerned with the problems faced by the towns in an inflationary period. There are many contributing factors to the increased cost of education at the local level. The largest single factor is high school tuition. Items in the budget that are statutory in nature account for nearly 50% of the budget. In view of this fact it seems as though a legislative program that provides some measure of financial relief at the local level is almost mandatory.

Legislative approval of the financial requirements of the present state aid law in full would alleviate the serious import of present financial requirements. Serious consideration of the state tax structure should be of first importance in the '53 session of the General Court.

BUDGET

The operational budget (estimated) shows an increase of $5,605.94. This increase is primarily found in two areas.

AUXILIARY ACTIVITIES

This area alone accounts for $4,311.98 of the increase. Although the actual enrollment showed no increase the distribution of the school population was such that a revision of the transportation routes became necessary. This revision involved an increase in mileage and accounts for the increase in this item. The factor, however, that is the biggest single item in the budgetary increase is high school tuition. The rate at Pinkerton Academy increased $35 a pupil ($250) which is still under the legal responsibility of the district. Manchester increased its rate to $275. These rate increases plus an increase in enrollment grades 9-12 anticipated for 1952-53 results in an increase of $4,535 in this item. The increase in cost of health supervision is statutory. The district's share of the supervisory union expense is based on adjusted valuation and enrollment. The adjusted valuation factor is largely responsible for the increase here of $76.98. By reducing other special activities by $500, the increase was cut to $3,996.62.

INSTRUCTION

The increase in this area all occurs in teachers salaries.

The increase allows for increases in teacher salaries in line with the general trend. The district's share for music is increased due to the statutory apportionment of the salary. The total increase is $1,284.66.

ADMINISTRATION

The increases here are primarily due to the statute. The salaries and expenses of administration are allocated on the basis of adjusted valuation and pupil enrollment. Increases in both result in an increased share for the district.

The continued interest of community groups in the welfare of the school and its pupils is worthy of commendation. It means that many services can be provided at present and in the near future that would be delayed if they were met only from the budget of the district. Playground equipment particularly is being provided that would be delayed for some time if funds had to be found from tax sources.

This helpful attitude is typical of the whole school community. School officials, teachers, parents, citizens and pupils all are striving to provide the best educational opportunity. I deeply appreciate the privilege of working in a situation where this attitude obtains.

Respectfully submitted,

EVERTON H. PARKINSON,
Superintendent of Schools.
